MANASSEH CUTLER

MANASSEH CUTLER, for whom Cutler Hall was named, was born at Killingly, Connecticut, May 13, 1742. After graduating from Yale, he taught for a time in Massachusetts. In 1767 he was admitted to the bar and four years later became pastor in Hamilton, Massachusetts. During the American Revolution he went with a regiment as chaplain. Mr. Cutler became a skillful physician after studying medicine in 1778, and in 1791 received a LL.D. degree from Yale.

He prepared the charter of what became Marietta College and was active in events leading to the establishment of Ohio University. In 1800 and 1801, he was chosen to the Massachusetts legislature and elected as representative to United States Congress. He died at Hamilton, Massachusetts, July 28, 1823.

WILLIAM H. SCOTT

WILLIAM HENRY SCOTT was born at Chauncey, Ohio, September 14, 1840. He received his A. B. from Ohio University in 1862, and his A.M. in 1865. In 1884, he received his LL.D. from Ohio University and Ohio Wesleyan University. He was superintendant of public schools of Athens from 1862 to 1864. In 1864 and 1865, he was principal of the preparatory department at Ohio University. From 1865 to 1869, he was a Methodist Episcopal minister. In 1869 he joined the faculty at Ohio University as Professor of Greek; from 1872 to 1883 he was president of the University and Professor of Philosophy. From 1883 to 1895 he was president of Ohio State University.

THOMAS EWING

THE first graduate of Ohio University, Thomas Ewing, was born near West Liberty, Virginia, on December 28, 1789. After receiving his first instructions in reading from his sister in 1795, enough money at Kenhow Salt works, he entered the college of Athens in 1810, later receiving a degree of Bachelor of Arts and Sciences. He entered himself as a law student at Lancaster, and in thirteen months was admitted to the bar, (1816). In 1830 Mr. Ewing was elected to fill a vacancy in the senate. Partly due to illness and partly to age, he died at Lancaster, on October 26, 1876.

ALSTON E. ELLIS

ALSTON E. ELLIS, for many years president of Ohio University, received his higher education at Miami University. After graduation, he went immediately into educational work in Kentucky and later in Colorado and Ohio. He became president of Ohio University in 1901. The enrollment of the university was very small at that time and appropriations were insufficient. Indeed there was a time when it looked as though the University might be abandoned. Ellis went to Columbus and with the aid of influential friends, succeeded in obtaining a substantial increase of appropriation. A building program was established, and the size of the university increased. He died in 1920 while still in office.

CHARLES WILLIAM SUPER

CHARLES WILLIAM SUPER was born at Pottsville, Pennsylvania, September 12, 1842. He attended Dickinson College where he received his A. B. in 1866. From 1869 to 1871 he studied at Tubingen College in Germany. His degree of A. M. was received at Syracuse University in 1883. His Ph. D. came to him in 1874 from Illinois Wesleyan. Twenty years later, 1894, his Alma Mater, Dickinson College, conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon him. He began his long career as an educator at Cincinnati Wesleyan as Professor of Languages. Later was president of that institution. He served as president of Ohio University two terms, from 1883 to 1896, and from 1899 to 1904. It was during his administration that the first appropriation was received from the state legislature. Since his resignation he has resided in Athens. His time has been spent looking after business and literary interests.

FACULTY

PRESIDENT BRYAN

OHIO University has had continuous progress since its establishment in 1804, as the illustrations in this well-prepared volume will show.

Classes were then small, and students and faculty members were few in numbers. However, the spirit of the institution was then, as we believe it to be now, aggressive and far-sighted.

The permanent holdings of the University have increased along with the enrollment and the faculty. The curricula of the University have developed, and specialized courses in many lines are offered. As the demands of the world outside have increased and become diversified, Ohio University has attempted to equip students to successfully meet these changed situations.

One hundred twenty-six years of progress is a statement which might be made today as characterizing the history of Ohio University. This advance has been admirably set forth by illustration and text in the 1930 Athena.

ELMER BURRITT BRYAN

The College of Liberal Arts

EACH student of life and education has his own interpretation and definition of what constitutes a liberal education. In his book, "The Meaning of a Liberal Education," Everett Dean Martin presents us with this analysis: "Education is emancipation from herd opinion, self-mastery, capacity for self-criticism, suspended judgment, and urbanity."

Herd opinion! Herd opinion is the opinion of the crowd; it is mob opinion. Acquainted with the history of human thought and action, the liberally educated man knows that frequently the vox populi is not the vox Dei; he is a pioneer; he blazes a new trail.

Self-mastery! This quality is closely related to the preceding. He knows himself, his limitations, his powers; he can control his passions, evaluate his prejudices, and guide his aspirations. He has passion prejudices, and aspirations but he is their master.

Capacity for self-criticism: He has the power of objectivity, he can project himself outside of himself and look at himself as he would look at a stranger. He is not selfishly self-centered nor is he a supreme egotist.

Suspended judgment! He can wait in patience until all the evidence is in before he reaches a conclusion; he knows that one must know accurately before one can reason correctly.

And urbanity! This means courtesy, refinement. The liberally educated man can move without embarrassment or friction in a world of men; his personality protects itself by the long established conventions that mankind has agreed upon as conducive to smooth living; he extracts from life the durable satisfactions.

The College of Education

THE College of Education of Ohio University is a vocational school which exists primarily for the purpose of preparing young men and women to become teachers. Its graduates with their backgrounds of preparation and student-teaching experience leave the University ready to enter the profession under very favorable circumstances.

The College of Education believes in ample and thorough preparation in academic fields of study as well as in professional work in education, psychology, educational sociology, educational biology, and other courses of a professional nature. A teacher can expect to give the best instruction to the child only when he, as a teacher, has a comprehensive knowledge of the subject. Accurate and careful mastery of academic subject matter is stressed by all departments in the College. Without this accuracy in knowledge, thoroughness in teaching cannot be secured.

Worthy standards are maintained chiefly through high grade instruction in the college class rooms. Well prepared members of the faculty, more than twenty of whom hold the doctor's degree, give careful personal and professional attention to the needs of their students, whether they are freshmen or seniors. The policy of bringing high grade instruction by teachers of professorial rank even to freshmen is significant and promises added success to worthy graduates who hope to become real artists in the teaching profession.

Campus Affairs Committee

THE Campus Affairs Committee is the officially approved committee of the University that directs and regulates campus-wide extra-curricular activities.

The personnel is made up of an even proportion of students and faculty, who are also in even proportion as regards men and women. The president of the University appoints the faculty members. With the exception of the Dean of Women and the Dean of Men who are permanent members of the committee, the other faculty members are limited to a maximum term of service of three years.

Four of the students of the committee hold office by virtue of campus affiliations: President of Women's League, President of Men's Union, President of W. A. A., Editor of Green and White. Two other students-at-large are elected by the ten designated members of the committee. The full quota is twelve.

The committee considers all requests for new campus organizations; all social regulations pertaining jointly to men and women; all appointments to positions of campus publications; all complaints regarding publications; and other business related and growing out of the preceding item.

The committee meets regularly on the Wednesday nearest the middle of the month. Sub-committees of the large committee study and survey campus problems from time to time. The committee designates its own chairman.

Campus Activities Advisory Board

Maurice Foraker

Chairman

ONE of the five supervisory boards of the Men's Union, the Campus Activities Advisory Board serves in several difficult capacities. The board takes an active part in encouraging students to take advantage of the facilities of the Men's Union and oversees many campus events.

One of the outstanding problems of the group is the Homecoming Day Float parade. Effecting a change in methods, the board decided that beauty alone would be the basis of judgment in the contest last fall. A plaque was offered to the sorority and the fraternity entering the most beautiful float and a cup was offered for the best decorated house.

The Men's Rodeo, held in the spring, is also supervised by the Campus Activities Advisory Board. At that event, which every man student of the University is expected to attend, a series of entertaining features are presented. Activities at the past Rodeo included solo dances, boxing and wrestling, tumbling, and speeches by faculty members. A box luncheon was served. Fraternity boarding clubs closed down for the evening.

Another responsibility of the group is the compilation of men's grades. This completed, awards are made to the fraternity active chapter, the fraternity pledge chapter, and the individual student with the highest scholastic average.

The board also supervises the Junior and Sophomore class elections.

THE Men's Union of Ohio University was established to fill a need for a center of male student interest and activity. The building, located on Union Street, opposite the North Gateway to the campus, contains a reading room, a large ball room, a recreation room, living quarters for students and officers of the Union, and several meeting rooms.

The reading room on the first floor is supplied with news of the day. About fifty of the best magazines are provided as well as many important newspapers. The Inter-fraternity Council room located on the second floor is used by that body in their monthly meetings. Torch, the men's senior honorary activities organization, has its quarters on that floor. There are a number of rooms designed for group meetings that are available to any group without charges.

Activities sponsored by the Men's Union include: awards for scholarship, both active and pledge in fraternities; 'thuse meetings; the freshman smoker; and arrangements for Homecoming Day.

Before the beginning of school, the president sent out letters of welcome to incoming freshmen. A radio was installed in the recreation room last fall. Other equipment in the room includes a phonograph, card tables, and billiard tables.

ONE of the most successful years since its organization is ended this spring by the Women's League, Ohio University student governing body for women. The League, of which every woman student on the campus becomes a member upon payment of her matriculation fee, does work similar to the Men's Union.

Activities of the League carried out this year include the annual skit show, the sorority sing, and Mothers Day, set aside for entertainment of Mothers of Ohio University students. The organization took an active part in all women's functions and assisted in several freshmen receptions as well as participating in the traditional Lantern parade on Senior Day and other affairs.

The League has helped over four hundred students through the Loan Fund, established fifteen years ago. The fund amounts to more than nine thousand dollars, and is loaned in sums of less than a hundred dollars to needy women students above freshman rank.

Members of the advisory board consisting of officers of the League and representatives from each sorority house, dormitory, and private house in which six or more women students live, meet monthly at luncheons in the Cafeteria. Dean Voigt meets with the group, and problems arising in the homes are discussed.

The League also maintains a fund to aid in the education of women in Constantinople.

Social Activities Advisory Board

Ralph Brown - - - - - Chairman

UPON the shoulders of the members of the Social Activities Advisory Board falls the task of arranging most of the social functions of Ohio University. Outstanding among the events held under the supervision of this group are the Freshman Mixer, the Registration Hops, and the regular school dances.

The Freshman Mixer is held during the first week of school for the purpose of giving freshmen an opportunity to meet their classmates in an informal manner. The rites of introduction at this gathering are simple; all that is necessary is the desire to know someone. Names of each individual are printed on a card worn in plain sight.

The Registration Hop is the first social event of the school year. Held usually on the first Wednesday of the semester, the dances are well attended by both freshmen and upperclassmen.

The Men's Rodeo, held in the Spring, is another event sponsored by the Social Activities Advisory Board. At this affair, women are barred. It is held in the Men's Gymnasium. The program consists of talks by faculty members, specialties by gifted students, boxing and wrestling, and a miniature gymnasium exhibition.

The primary purpose of the group is to encourage school spirit by means of all-campus social activity.

SENIORS

Senior Class History

AN ideal accomplished, a record made, a precedent set up for other classes to follow, and the group of students who will soon leave Ohio University with the 1930 graduating class are well satisfied that they have done their best.

With the graduation of the class go many of the best known figures on the campus; organizations, publications, and clubs will feel the loss keenly when their senior members leave. A large percentage of the most outstanding students on the campus will be graduated this year, leaving to the juniors, the seniors of next year, a record of high and laudable achievement to follow.

The class has seen the dedication of the new football field. During its stay on the campus the new Memorial Auditorium has been built. One of its members was the first woman editor the Athena has ever known. Its Junior Prom was one of the best a class has given here.

Many have dropped out of the eight hundred and two students who came to Ohio University in 1926. Reasons have been many and varied. Still enough students remain to make the class what it is.

At the first organized meeting of the bewildered freshmen, Wallace Johnson was elected president, and James Berry, vice president, Pauline Jones was secretary, and Clayton Cline was treasurer. The first year was marked by the pajama parade, the great battle with the sophomores, and the annual tug-of-war, when sophomores were ignominiously defeated by the peppy frosh.

Names were taken for political factions for the first time during the sophomore year of the class, when officers were Raymond Singer, Glenn Cole, as president and vice president, Margaret Schick and Kenneth Coulter as secretary and treasurer. Junior officers were Louis Snyder, president; Donald Berrett, vice president; Harry Haller, treasurer, and Theora Bartholomew, secretary.

Now, with four years of college achievement behind them, members of the class of 1930 will start their efforts to make the everyday world look up in surprise and delight. The best wish that underclassmen can give the group is that it continue the performing of successful and praiseworthy deeds that have marked its college career.

JUNIORS

Junior Class History

TO the junior class at most universities, comes a greater part of responsibility and work. Two elementary years have been finished, one lies ahead. The zenith has been reached, the third year is the climax. The senior year is that of preparation for the real world but the junior year is the one for greatest enjoyment, most rapid strides, and more detailed consideration of a college education.

The class of 1931 has experienced the above. Rapid strides have been successfully taken. As for enjoyment, ask any junior where he would like to spend the rest of his life, and he will say Athens. As a matter of fact, in November, several Juniors stated that they intended to reside in Athens for the remainder of their lives and met with disaster after making such a declaration.

(See court records for December 24, 1929.)

The first two years were typical of most classes. There were enough promising athletes in the group of about 1000 who entered. There was enough grey matter among the assorted brains. There was journalistic ability and leadership ability. There were few snobs (the number has not increased) and many substantial friends.

In the annual freshman-sophomore battle, the class of 1931 was successful as a group of freshmen and quite unsuccessful as a handful of sophomores. Some of the members of the class are proud of the distinction of losing the sack rush by the score of 2-1 instead of 3-0 as is usually the case.

The freshmen exhibited signs of the hang-together spirit in their freshman year when an attempt was made to toss the freshmen class into the State Hospital lake. All too late, the captors of the freshman president learned that a distress call had been sounded. Their retreat was hasty but ineffectual.

The greatest event of the junior year, from a class standpoint, is the Junior Prom. Introducing new ideas on decoration and entertainment, the committee staged a dance that met with approval, sometimes enthusiasm, from all parts.

The junior class has seen the rise and fall of political parties. A year ago, they were active participants in what may well be called "The Greatest College Election Day." At that time all but approximately a hundred students voted. A strenuous campaign, permeated with stump speeches, mud slinging, and serenades was climaxed with a great demonstration when the votes had been counted. Later in the same year the other party scored a surprise victory in freshman elections.

There is but one pleasant year left. Pleasant it shall be for every year at Athens is pleasant. It should be punctuated with success in every line of endeavor. When progressive students attend a progressive institution, it is logical that progress should result.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomore Class History

ON October nineteenth in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred twenty-eight, a group of young men and women from many parts of the state and country swarmed to the men's gymnasium. Their purpose was to register as students of Ohio University. Most of them succeeded. This was the class of nineteen thirty-two in its embryonic stage.

Since that time the class has been a distinct influence on the institution. They went through the very green period of wearing the traditional green cap with flying colors. The first real taste of the intricacies of college life came with the freshman election. Officers elected were Marion Carr, president, Malin Marsh, vice president, Winston Weisman, secretary, and Wilda Knight, treasurer. The wigs also put up four candidates for the same offices. *

During that memorable year the activities of Frosh. vs. Soph. were of very little importance. The freshmen proved what a year of college will do to the vitality of men in the tug-of-war. They dragged these old men through the mire of the State Hospital lake with ease. The sack rush was a walk away for the class of thirty-two.

The youngsters really brought themselves into the eye of the public when they did the homecoming pajama parade up in a fashion that the school will not forget it for some time. Of course some of the things that were done to attain this notoriety are not to be commended, but nevertheless it showed that there was a spark of life there that was not to be extinguished in any short time. The atrocities committed by a few are not considered significant of that spark.

All through the year the young men and women who made up this class were to be marked for their exceptional interest in campus activities, and general spirit that should be with any group. They attended the athletic contests religiously, and proved that they had very powerful lungs. In athletics, the freshman teams were truly exceptional. Many who last year were cannon fodder for the varsity squad are now listed among the men who are carrying the name of the institution to fame in all branches of athletics.

Now, as you know, it isn't the thing for people to stay freshmen for more than one year. This group found that out so the majority of them got over it in June of nineteen twenty-nine and became sophomores. They left the freshman stage with many valuable memories. Most of them had learned what it was all about, and were well fitted to assume the vigorous duties of sophomores the following fall.

The officers for the sophomore year are: President, Frank Kocar; Vice President, Ethel Roderick; Secretary, Anna Lahna, Treasurer, Marjorie Houghton.

Thus far the sophomore class has lived up to the reputation that they gained as freshmen—interested in the welfare and activities of the University. Many of the members of the class of 1932 are now prominent in campus affairs. The athletes who have helped so much in getting the school so much favorable publicity, had many sophomores among their number.

The future, we trust, will hold as much for this group as the past has. If it finishes in proportion to the start that it had the Class of 1932 will long be remembered on the campus of Ohio University.

FRESHMEN

Freshman Class History

WITH an enthusiasm and ambition hard to equal, the newcomers began life at their chosen Alma Mater on that memorable Monday in September.

The enrollment figures show that there were 1000 freshmen this year.

From all indications this class is going to be one of the ablest and most intelligent classes in the history of the University. Not only do they excel in scholarship, but they have entered all branches of extracurricular activities with a zeal that has made the upper classmen look to their laurels.

After a week of strenuous rushing, the names of more than 200 promising young men were entered on the rolls of the various fraternities.

A month later some 175 women had pledged with the sixteen sororities. It has been noted that the women of this class are outstanding for their beauty and intelligence.

The sorority pledges were initiated into the art of selling "Green Goats" one cold and frosty morning. The sale was marked by the enthusiasm of the saleswomen in out rivaling each other. In fact they sold so many "Goats" that there were not enough left for exchange.

Because of the activities on "Pajama Night" last year, the parade was dispensed with this year, much to the obvious relief of the freshmen women. For some weeks before Homecoming, during which time the annual raid was expected, the mere mention of the parade turned the girls' dormitories into a pandemonium in which fear reigned.

The Freshmen Smoker, the go-getter at the women's Gym, and the Freshman Mixer at the Men's Union gave the class its first opportunities for getting acquainted, both individually and as a class. The spirit of fun and democracy which pervaded these affairs is an outstanding characteristic of the class.

The election of class officers was won by the Wig Party. It is the first time in two years that members of that party have held office. Joe Colvin, Eleanor McDermott, Calvin Hawkins, and Robert Willoughby were selected to lead the class of 1933 on the first lap of its journey.

The first test of the powers of the class was the sack rush. After a fierce contest in which both freshmen and sophomores emerged a little worse for the wear and tear, the freshmen were pronounced victors. In the spring, the icy waters of the asylum pond, provided a second test for the abilities of the freshmen.

Each year the incoming class seems more promising than the last. The class of 1933, especially, shows a decided superiority in all fields.

Next year, the present freshmen will have an even greater opportunity to display their abilities in filling the responsible positions which will be theirs. Cooperation in reaching the goal of high standard is their aim. May this class of 1933 go through as it has begun.

BIRD

Department of Physical Department

PROFESSOR O. C. Bird has been greatly instrumental in the fast development of the Physical Education Department of Ohio University. Coming here in 1922 as Director of Athletics, Professor Bird began building up his department and, today, is one of the finest in the state.

In 1922 Ohio University offered no physical education course nor did it offer a course in which a student could major in any particular branch of athletics. The one gymnasium used was for both men and women. Since Director Bird took charge at the department a new gymnasium for men has been built; the School of Physical Education has been established with a faculty of 15 members; and a $185,000 stadium built by the Athletic Association has just recently been completed.

The present faculty of the men's physical education department consists of Don C. Peden, Associate Professor of Physical Education and Head Football and Baseball Coach; Brandon T. Grover, Associate Professor of Physical Education and Head Basketball Coach; Thorwald Olson, Assistant Professor of Physical Education and Wrestling Coach; Charles D. Giauque, Associate Professor of Physical Education; William H. Herbert, Assistant Professor of Physical Education and Track Coach; William J. Trautwein, Assistant Professor of Physical Education and Intramural Director; Arthur H. Rhoades, Instructor in Physical Education; and Dr. Blaine Goldsberry, Physician.

The women's department consists of Sarah Hatcher and Harriet Rogers, Assistant Professors of Physical Education; Ruth Alexander, Claudie Roberts, Marian Ickis, Charlotte La Tourrette, and Dorothy Beise, Instructors in Physical Education.

1929 Football Review

THE Ohio University Bobcats last fall brought to Athens the Championship of the Buckeye Athletic Association, and attained national recognition as a football team. They were ranked among the high scorers in the country with 306 points against 13 for the opponents.

Using a brilliant, steady, but fast and puzzling offense they scored at will, while the opponents were unable to penetrate the ironclad defense of the Fighting Bobcats. Ohio's great record was the result of consistent teamwork on the part of the players, and the fine coaching of Don Peden and his able staff, "Dutch" Trautwein, and "Butch" Grover.

The schedule this year consisted of nine games, and was one of the hardest played by any team of the B. A. A. Ohio's team was rated as the best in the state. Ask Grant Ward, he knows.

WADLEY

Indiana

Against Indiana University, a Big Ten team, the Bobcats had a chance to use their claws for the first time. The game was not played against the Indiana Reserves as the public was made to believe but against the hard hitting, regular varsity lineup. Presenting an offense that functioned smoothly and a defense that was impregnable, Ohio's Bobcats outclassed the Hoosiers and returned from Bloomington with a great victory in their grasp. This 18-0 triumph did much to give the team and coaches every bit of confidence, and demonstrated the powerful attack and teamwork necessary to a championship team.

Hastings, tackle, and Papritan, guard, seemed to be the best "backfield men" that Indiana had. They were through the line consistently, getting the ball carrier before he could advance. They were, also, on the job when good interference was needed for our plunging backs.

West Liberty

Displaying flashes of the attack which annihilated Indiana in their first game the Bobcats defeated West Liberty State Normal 26-0. It was the first contest held in the new stadium, and, although, numerous substitutes were used the Pedenmen seemingly were not weakened by any of the changes. Even though the Bobcats had an easy time, the victory impressed those present that Ohio's team was one that was to be feared by the teams remaining on their schedule.

Ohio Wesleyan

A 'thuse meeting that excelled in spirit, noise, speeches, and music any other meeting of its kind in the history of Ohio University was held in Ewing Hall the eve of the Wesleyan game. The players instilled with that spirit of loyalty were to face the supreme test of their ability, both on offense and defense, against Ohio Wesleyan's Battling Bishops.

The Ohio Bobcats opened their 1929 Buckeye Conference football schedule with a slashing 21-7 victory over the Battling Bishops. Using tricky line plays on offense and scoring continually showed Ohio had a great scoring combination as well as a great fighting defensive team. The Bobcats completely outclassed Coach Gauthier's men in every phase of the game and continued on their way toward a successful season and the Championship of the Buckeye Athletic Association.

Captain "Red" Brammer, end, and "Chick" Young, fullback, led the attack for Ohio. Brammer after receiving a 25 yard pass from Kepler, ran 10 yards for the first score of the game. "Chick" Young, using the spinner play almost every time he carried the ball, was seldom halted before he made large gains. He was as good on defense as he was on offense.

THE NEW STADIUM

MUSKINGUM

Playing before a homecoming crowd, the largest to witness a game in McConagha Stadium, Ohio University's Bobcats continued their success by defeating Muskingum College, 59-0.

The Bobcat "Gas-house Gang" (the reserves), led by George Seedhouse, did themselves justice in this game. Coach Peden took this opportunity to use all available men, and the Reserves showed they had the stuff for they continued on a scoring rampage.

The Ohioans tore great holes in the Muskie defense and the ball carrier had no trouble in gaining yardage. Ohio's trick plays, too, were too much for the New Concord lads to solve.

The Bobcats gained the lead in the race for the B. A. A. title by defeating Cincinnati, 35-0. With 24 first downs to their credit it may be seen that the superiority of Ohio could not be denied. The Bearcats attempted a strong aerial attack in the last quarter, but this was not of much avail against Ohio's strong defense.

CRAMER

The first touchdown came indirectly as a result of Clyde Cramer, end, blocking a Cincinnati punt in midfield.

MIAMI

Ohio University dedicated its new $185,000 stadium with a clear-cut victory over Miami University before a homecoming crowd of 10,000. The Big Reds of Miami were out-classed but nevertheless were a strong foe.

Using triple and double reverse plays, Ohio smashed into the Miami line and had no difficulty getting through for large gains.

Ray Singer, quarterback, thrilled the crowd at the beginning of the third quarter and brought them to their feet by taking Miami's kick-off on the opening play and behind perfect interference, ran 80 yards for a touchdown.

The teams fought evenly after Singer's run but Miami could not penetrate far into Ohio's territory, and the game ended 14-0.

By this victory the Bobcats continued their successful march toward the Buckeye title.

Freshmen Football

A REAL job confronted Coach Bill Herbert and his assistants, Lyly Mowbray and Dallas Farmer, last fall when over a hundred freshmen reported to them for football practice. In this group were many green men, as well as outstanding stars, and it was the duty of the coaches to pick out the players who would be of value to the university in future athletics.

The freshmen were taught the rudiments of the game first, and later they were used to scrimmage against the varsity. A great deal of the honor achieved by the Bobcats on the gridiron is traceable to the practice sessions against these freshmen, who gave a good account of themselves by their ability both on defense and offense.

Basketball

ALTHOUGH the Ohio University basketball team did not achieve as good a record as did the football team the Bobcat cagers by no means had a bad season for they won 12 games while losing nine. Ohio finished right back of Cincinnati and Ohio Wesleyan, who tied for first place in the Buckeye Conference, by virtue of their four wins and a like number of defeats. Among the Green and White's victories was one over Cincinnati in next to the last contest of the season.

KOTERBA

HART

Starting out with a team which looked as good as any team in recent years, Ohio pried off the lid with an easy victory over Bliss College, 48 to 27. Ohio's fast breaking offense proved too much for the Columbus team.

Ohio State gave the Green and White cagers their first reversal of the season when the Scarlet and Gray made a basket in the final seconds of play to eke out a 26—24 victory. The game was played under rules eliminating the tip-off and was closely contested throughout.

WARSHOWER

KEPLER

After a trip through the East where games against the leading teams of that section were played, Ohio began its Buckeye race by losing to Ohio Wesleyan, 44 to 38. The Green and White improved as the season progressed and defeated Miami twice, Dennison, and Cincinnati. Wesleyan took two Buckeye victories from the Bobcats, and Dennison, and Cincinnati one apiece. Wittenberg, which dropped from the Conference, split even with Ohio.

VARSITY SQUAD

To Captain Brammer, Koterba, who was leading scorer of the Conference, Swackhammer, Warshower Root, Hart and Trace goes much praise for Ohio's showing. The first three named graduate in June. Koterba was picked for the all-Conference team, while Brammer made the second.

Coach Butch Grover again directed the team's activities during the 1929-30 season, and did a good job of it.

OHIO University's Bobcats enjoyed a successful season in baseball last spring. Although garnering third place in the Buckeye Conference, the Green and White tossers won a total of twelve out of eighteen games played during the season. The best game was against Miami whom the Bobcats defeated three to two in eighteen innings.

"Beany" Trace, Ohio pitcher, who won all but one of his games, was signed up by the Columbus Senators, American Association team.

BROWN

Baseball 1929

AFTER a month of intensive training the call of "Play Ball" was sounded and the Ohio Bobcats, under the coaching of Don Peden, began their baseball season. Although losing to Ohio State, 7 to 1, in the opener the Ohioans showed promise.

BARFOOT

GUSTINELLA

The Bobcats broke even against West Virginia, at Morgantown, W. Va., losing the first, 4 to 3, and winning a return game, 7 to 5. Koterba had a big day in the second contest, and came through with three hits.

McKINLEY

ENGH

Minnesota, of the Big Ten, opened Ohio's season at home and walloped the Green and White, 19 to 5, when the Peden men staged a comedy of errors. Dennison was the first conference foe of the Bobcats, and the Big Red was defeated by a score of 8 to 5. Continuing their fine playing, the Green and White players vanquished Muskingum, 12 to 5.

HASTINGS

WILLIAMS

Although outhit, Ohio trimmed Marietta 7 to 3 in the next game. Miami required 14 innings of tight baseball to win from Ohio, 3 to 2 at Oxford. The Bobcats came back by shutting out the Cincinnati Bearcats 3 to 0 at the Queen City. Engh and Barfoot pitched well in those two games.

TRACE

WARSHOWER

Another hard fought struggle resulted in a victory for Ohio against Wittenberg, 5 to 1. Warshower's great batting was a feature of the contest. Fine pitching by Ohio Moundmen gave Ohio a 4 to 1 decision over Ohio Wesleyan in another Buckeye game. A 4 to 1 defeat by Cincinnati pulled the Bobcats to third place in the Conference standing.

SCHRIEBER

BRAMMER

Ohio played its best brand of ball in the latter part of the season, and following the defeat by the Bearcats the Pedemen won from Wittenberg, Ashlan, Western Reserve, Miami, and Dennison, while losing to Ohio Wesleyan by a single point.

Baseball 1929

The Bobcats lost six regulars by graduation and other reasons. Barfoot, star left hand pitcher, Gustinella, brilliant outfielder, McKinley, all round star, all graduated. Hastings, first baseman, will not be eligible this season on account of scholastic difficulties, and Trace is now playing with the Columbus Senators.

Spring practice for the 1930 season showed a lack of pitchers of the ability of Trace and Barfoot. Some of the promising pitchers were Mozdy, Weisman, John Trace, Johnson, Young. Root gave promise of being the "Babe Ruth" of Ohio University in batting practice.

The old athletic field is used by the baseball team and is one of the best conditioned diamonds in the Buckeye Conference. Baseball is the only sport the field is used for since the erection of the new stadium.

OHIO University's trackmen, under the coaching of Bill Herbert, achieved fair success on the cinder paths in the 1929 campaign. The Bobcats first contested against Dennison in an indoor meet here which resulted in a tie.

The pole vault record was broken by a freshman in the Varsity—Frosh meet on the Ohio field, when Seeman raised Freshwater's record of 11 feet six to 11 feet eight.

MOLTER

OHIO defeated Muskingum by one point in a dual meet. Molter's win from Kirby marked the first time that the Muskie 2 miler was defeated in three years. Newell's victory in the 440 won the meet. Blaettner was high point man for Ohio with 9 points in the dashes.

Wrestling 1930

WRESTLING, the popularity of which has been growing here on Ohio's campus by leaps and bounds each year, advanced this year again when the Athenian squad enjoyed a successful season with three victories and two defeats and again won the state championship.

Coach Olson's men journeyed to Western Reserve University at Cleveland, Ohio on March 14 and 15, to defend their title as state champions which they won last year.

Six of the seven last year's state champions were members of the Ohio squad, but only Ray Craft, the 165-pound member of the "Bobcat" aggregation, will defend his title in the Forest city tournament. The Green and White captain has a very impressive record this year and it looks very likely that he will repeat his last year's record.

The past season for Olson's men has proved quite successful, considering that the final part of the schedule was made doubly difficult by ineligibility within the Ohio ranks. This was overcome quite handily, however, and the group finished with a great flourish.

The opening match of the season resulted in a victory for Ohio when the "Bobcats" defeated Marshall College 23—3. A former Ohio wrestler, Sereno Shaffer, coached the invaders.

Indiana brought a veteran team to Ohio and though Olson's proteges fought gallantly they were overwhelmed by the score of 31—5. Clever, "Bobcat" lightweight, was the only man of the locals to win his match.

A jaunt to East Lansing, Michigan, gave the local group their second victory of the season when they defeated the Michigan State wrestlers.

Ineligibility now placed its heavy toll on the ranks of the grapplers and the "Mountaineers" of West Virginia U., ancient rivals, departed with a 17—11 victory won only after hard fighting for both groups.

The season was wound up with a victory over Kent State 24—8. The famous "Iron man" of the championship Ohio team of a year ago, Joe Begala coached the Kent group.

To attempt to pick out the outstanding man of the team would be an impossibility. The team, was a well balanced unit with no particular man a star.

Steele, Kleiger, Busha, Shaffer, Kraft, Estep and Blosser all receive well merited praise. They worked together as one and they should receive the credit due them. It was unfortunate that the grapplers lost several of their men at mid-semester, but this setback was only temporary and the "Bobcats" finished up in great style.

So it can safely be said that wrestling maintained the high standard set by other athletics on Ohio's campus this year, and though competition was keener at Cleveland this year, Coach Olsen's men made a name for themselves there, and kept up the good record of former years.

BURKHOLDER

CAPT. LUTZ

Tennis

LUTZ, Burkholder, Gardner, and Marriott comprise the 1929 racquet squad. O. C. Bird, director of Athletics and tennis coach, at first planned to have a six man team in order to give more men a chance. The squad was largely comprised of new material, only Captain John Lutz remaining from last year, but the new youngsters made a formidable combination.

Lutz, a steady back court man, possesses a puzzling serve, and was outstanding in Buckeye net circles.

Burkholder was not a member of last year's squad, but was a regular in his sophomore year. Despite the fact that he had a year layoff, he has lost none of his playing ability.

Gardner, a sophomore, and Marriott, a senior, did exceptionally well in the elimination contest, winning all sets. These two men filled positions three and four and were also paired in doubles, where they made a strong combination.

The Bird men were handicapped during the early training period because of wet courts and cloudy skies. As a result the first two contests with Denison and Marietta were postponed. The court team broke even in their two engagements.

The flashy Pitt racqueteers crushed the Ohioans, but Ohio defeated the Wesleyan team 5 1. The Bobcats again defeated the Bishops in a return engagement, 4 2.

GARDNER

MARRIOTT

In a match with Dennison, Ohio recorded a tie 3—3, a strong competition for the title honors of the association.

The Ohio University net men added Marietta to their string of victories, defeating the pioneers 4—2.

Ohio entered Lutz and Gardner in the Buckeye Conference tennis tournament at Delaware. They made a fine showing by getting into the finals, only losing to the fast Bearcat netters, who made a clean sweep of the B. A. A. tournament.

Coach O. C. Bird was highly satisfied with the team. Though not equalling the record of last year, it made a fine showing, winning over every team except Pittsburgh, and to Cincinnati in the finals in the tournament.

Women's Department of Physical Education

OHIO UNIVERSITY may well be proud of its Physical Education department for women. It ranks high among the seven such departments in the state which offer women a four year course in physical education with a B. S. degree and a teacher's certificate.

Miss Sara Hatcher is the head of the department and working with her are: Ruth Alexander, in charge of dancing and Studio Club; Harriet Rogers, swimming instructor; Marian Ickes, Charlotte LaTourette, and Dorothy Beise, conducting classes and instructing in various other sports. Miss Hatcher and Miss Alexander have received their Masters Degrees and all other instructors are working toward that end.

The purposes of the department, according to Miss Hatcher, are to train teachers and to provide wholesome recreation, fun and sports for the women of the University. In the fall classes in hockey and tennis are given. When inclement weather necessitates indoor work instruction is given in swimming, basketball and volley-ball.

Physical education for women has advanced rapidly at Ohio during the past few years. Two new instructors have been added to the staff and much more major work is being done. The physical education curriculum has been enlarged and new electives added. Courses are now being offered in health work, practical physical education work, scouting, and orthopedic. It is the plan of the department to spread out and include as many new courses as possible.

At the present time the Women's Gym is filled to capacity and the problem on hand is to find more space. If the department continues to grow as it has in the past it will be necessary to build a new gymnasium for women.

Varsity "O" Association

THE Women's Varsity "O" Association is composed of those women who have been awarded a varsity "O" by the Women's Athletic Association. The "O" is an honorary award which is given a girl who has won 1300 points by participating in athletics and has passed the approval of the W. A. A. executive board. In addition to the points a girl must have a high scholastic standing, a sportsmanlike attitude, and a democratic spirit on the campus.

The Women's Varsity "O" Association was organized in 1926 after letters had been awarded three girls for proficiency in athletics. Since that time forty women have worn the "O" signifying their keen interest in physical education. At the present time there are eight members of the association. Marjorie Carter, who won the award last year, is president of the group. Those who have received letters this year are: Martha Ransdell, Bertha Kulberg, Sophia Elikan, Mary Chessman, Marian Fuke, Gertrude Fouts, and Elizabeth Rodewig. There are also two honorary members, Miss Rogers and Miss Alexander, instructors in the Physical Education department.

Although the "O" Association is governed by the W. A. A. constitution it is a separate organization having its own officers and social activities. Among the best known are the "Zero" parties given to initiate members into the group. The association also sponsors hikes, picnics, and other sports.

Women's Athletic Association

TO provide a sport for every girl and an adequate play program is the aim of the Women's Athletic Association of Ohio University.

The membership in the association is open to every girl upon the campus, the only requirement being that she win 100 points which are given for participation in the various sports and activities of the Physical Education Department. Each member of W. A. A. is then required to earn 100 points a year to retain her active membership in the organization.

The W. A. A. athletic program for the year has been divided into four seasons with appropriate sports. In the fall hockey and tennis are played. During the winter season there is basketball and apparatus. The mid-season is occupied with volleyball and swimming and in the spring the active sports are track and baseball. There are also several year round activities such as hiking and dancing. Thus W. A. A. aims to provide a sport which can be participated in by any girl at any time of the year.

Margaret Schick, a senior, and a major in the Physical Education department is president of the organization. Other officers, which comprise the executive board are Marjorie Carter, vice-president; Elizabeth Rodewig, secretary; Sophia Elikan, treasurer, and Marian Fluke, social chairman.

In addition to its program of sports W. A. A. has numerous campus activities, among the best known of which is the annual carnival held in the Men's Gymnasium on Homecoming day. Each sorority takes part and prizes are awarded for the largest sum of money made and for the best decorated booth. The association also sponsors several dances and banquets during the course of the year.

W. A. A. has been an unusually successful organization thus far and credit is due to its splendid executive board. It has the backing of the entire physical education department and the approval of the campus.

Ohio Aquatic Club

THE Ohio Aquatic Club was organized in 1927 to further an interest in swimming among the women of the university.

Membership in the organization is limited to those girls who display a marked ability in aquatic sports. Before becoming a member of the club it is necessary to pass rigid swimming tests on the various strokes and dives. After receiving membership one may, through passing a series of tests become a master swimmer. The master swimmer may then test applicants for admission and may next pass the life saving tests.

The present membership totals twenty women whose officers are: Louise Ickis, president; Bertha Kulberg, vice-president; Martha Ransdell, secretary and Marian Fluke, treasurer. Miss Harriet Rogers, the department instructor in swimming, is the faculty advisor of the group.

Every year O. A. C. sponsors a water carnival which takes the form of a pageant at the open pool on Union Street. All swimming classes take part in this exhibit and much interest is evinced in aquatics at this time.

The social activities of the club consist in a swimming party every month to which teachers, pupils, and their friends are invited. Every summer the Aquatic Club takes a cottage at Buckeye Lake for a short vacation period.

It is believed by the department that the club has done much to adding interest and furthering a love for swimming among women of the university.

The Ohio Alumnus

CLARK E. WILLIAMS
Alumni Secretary

MUCH of the admirable alumni spirit exhibited by former students of Ohio University is traceable to Clark E. Williams, alumni secretary, and the publication of which he is editor, the Ohio Alumnus. Had there not been more than the customary amount of enthusiasm, it is probable that the Alumni Memorial Auditorium would not be as large as it is, nor would the sale of stadium bonds have been as rapid.

The Ohio Alumnus, which is published throughout the year, is eagerly read by Ohio graduates scattered throughout the country because it is wide in its scope, and is full of interesting information. There are always a few pages of alumni personal items, including marriages, and births, editorials concerning subjects of alumni interest, briefs of campus activities, athletic summaries and predictions, and articles dealing with outstanding successes made by graduates in their respective fields.

The remarkable success of the championship football team was given the amount of space it deserved in the magazine. In the fall issues, reproduction of newspaper accounts of the Bobcats, cuts of outstanding players, details of games, and even editorials, appeared with regularity.

Although the Alumnus is an alumni publication, undergraduates read it as eagerly as do the graduates. The article dealing with the successes of graduates is always full of interest. Then too, news that is sometimes missed by student publications appears in the magazine.

The illustrations used in the publication are always excellent both from the standpoint of selection and clarity. A view of the campus usually appears on the frontispiece page while pictures of successful graduates and undergraduates appear throughout the entire magazine.

Again it must be said that much of the enthusiasm of the alumni body is due to the efforts of Mr. Williams. His publication is deserving of all the praise it receives.

DRAMATICS DEBATE

Playshop

FULTON OURSLER, the distinguished New York playwright, impressed by the manner of staging and acting revealed in "Beggars on Horseback", the Koffman-Connelly expressionistic satire, gave the director special permission to offer the Glenn Hunter success "Behold This Dreamer" as the opening play of the 1929-30 season. Howard Blaine, Theora Bartholomew, Gordon Logan, Robert Whittier and Louis Shaw were cast in leading roles in recognition of their superior work in the University theater. Their interpretations provided sufficient reason for the distinctive tone evidenced in this modern comedy. Theatre Arts Monthly, a publication devoted to the interests of the world theater, reproduced Vincent Jukes admirable settings for "Behold This Dreamer" as illustrative of the creative expression found in the tributary theater.

Succeeding this major venture, the Playshop indulged in a novelty presentation at "The Hillside Theater". Under the direction of Harold Evans, Playshop director, and Jean Rauch, a student major in dramatics, "The Grill", a mystery comedy by George Woodruff Johnston and "Juliet and Romeo" by Harry Wagstaff Gribble were offered with the air of informality that the occasion demanded. Elma Stout, Iris Young, Dorothy Lindquist and Gordon Logan distinguished themselves by the smoothness of their playing. Lawrence Rhodes appeared as monologist.

Thruout the year heavy emphasis has been placed on the selection of distinctive plays for the Convocation program. "The Potboiler", an extravagant satire by Alice Gerstenberg, was interpreted in the manner of the "Naughty Nineties" with complete abandon by Howard Blaine, Helen Rouch, Dorothy Beadle, Lindley Smith, Louis Gettings, Vincent Jukes and John Hulbert. "Great Moments", a nonsensical comedy by Raymond Moore, sent the audience into hilarious response thru the efforts of Jack Swanson, Mildred Ruppe and Phyllis Brown.

Without question the most deeply significant plays of this series have been "The Valiant" by Holworthy Hall and Robert Middlemass and "Where The Cross Is Made" by Eugene O'Neill. These two plays were chosen with "The Undercurrent" by Faye Ehlert, for a public presentation sponsored by the American Association of University Women in appreciation of the Playshop's program of superior plays. The original casts including Lawrence Rhodes, Jean Rauch, Edwin J. Smith, David Titus, Helen Roush, Lindley Smith, Henry Harding, Irene Cowan, Gordon Logan, Irene Askue and Helen Goss, repeated their vivid portrayals.

“Sun-up” by Lulu Vollmer came as a mid-season triumph. The realistic setting, the exceptional acting of what was known as an all-star cast were accorded unanimous approval. Lavery, Rhodes, Rauch, Blaine, Moon, Johns, Lane and Dowd are names to be remembered in recollection of noteworthy achievement in dramatic characterization.

“The Last of Mrs. Cheney” presented Henry Harding, Jack Swanson, Mildred Ruppe and Lindley Smith as leading actors in this all-Freshman production. Acting assignments were given in recognition of efforts evinced by these players thru the season.

PLAY ?

The Comedians

THE Comedians of Ohio University meeting the implied definitive quality of their name, danced, sang and acted their newest original offering "Sunshine Inn" at a comedy pace which quite completely swept the audience into the hilarious scene.

"Sunshine Inn" with its book by the director, Harold Evans, developed from an original plot conceived by himself, Edwin J. Smith, Lawrence Rhodes and Howard Blaine, clicked from the opening scene. The all-star cast composed of such fun-makers as Robert Ferguson, Lawrence Rhodes, Louis Shaw, Howard Blaine, Henry Harding, June Smith and Vincent Jukes, developed the comedy situations into what Variety would term a "rave".

The score composed by Charles Gressle, musical director of the production; Vincent Jukes and Henry Harding, achieved a popular rhythm which projected the show into the "hit" class.

As in previous Comedian presentations, the dancing choruses, directed by Howard Blaine, achieved a nearly perfect precision of ensemble work through their intricate dances and were compelled to respond to repeated encores until tired feet said, 'no more'.

John Rood, whose distinctive programs have been a feature of both Playshop and Comedian productions, designed the settings for "Sunshine Inn". Vincent Jukes, as technical director, gave a most faithful interpretation of the artist's designs in constructing these settings. Jukes' co-workers, as scene builders, were the members of the class in Theatre Arts in the Department of Dramatic Art and Production. Programs for "Sunshine Inn" were designed in the modern manner by Arthur E. Hanna.

Dillon Cundiff, as stage manager, and Robert Randolph, in charge of publicity, deserve credit as unsung heroes for their work in launching this year's Comedian success in smoothly running performance before large and appreciative audiences.

The Comedians may well say that in "Sunshine Inn" they have quite definitely topped in popular approval the reception accorded "Hello Happiness" and and "Dawn O'Day".

Intercollegiate Varsity Debate

“NOT only because the question was an interesting one, not alone because we met a number of very fine debate teams, but chiefly because everyone who participated took an active interest in his work, this forensic season more than any other has been a successful one.”

Thus reviewing the work of the debaters whom he has directed, Prof. William H. Cooper, head of the Department of Public Speaking, sums up the past year in debate. The forensic season has been notably successful, a large number of candidates trying out for positions on a squad which faced the most difficult schedule ever before attempted.

Of the eight debate teams finally selected, Professor Cooper has developed a group which has equalled in performance that of any university in its class. Practice meets each week eventually led to the equal alinement of the speakers on either side of the question for debate “resolved that admission to institutions of higher learning be restricted to those showing special ability.”

Intercollegiate Varsity Debate

HARVARD UNIVERSITY, always a staunch defender of restriction, debated against an Ohio University team in Alumni Memorial auditorium at Convocation Wednesday morning, April 9. The debate was outstanding in giving proof of the capability of Ohio's forensic squad.

The first meeting of the season was in a debate against West Virginia, held in Ewing Hall Auditorium on February 14. Ohio University upheld the affirmative, while the Mountaineer squad favored the negative. On the following Friday, the two schools interchanged viewpoints, and Ohio team traveling to Morgantown, West Virginia. From that time on debates were held almost weekly through March and April.

Major forensic meetings were those with Ohio Wesleyan, Miami, Dennison, and University of Cincinnati. Early in the season, Kenneth C. Coulter, Leonard L. Henninger, and Robert W. Whittier formed a committee to negotiate with other schools to arrange debates in addition to the ones scheduled. An active correspondence was conducted with Western Reserve, Wooster, Muskingum, Marietta, and several other schools in the neighborhood of Ohio University.

APPEARING before the student body at various times during the past year, the organizations of the School of Music have become well known to everyone on the Ohio University campus. Comparison of the excellence of their performance is difficult, for all have worked equally hard to attain near-professional perfection.

Perhaps the greatest impetus has been given the Ohio University Band, numbering 85 members, under the direction of Professor Curtiss W. Janssen. New courses in band instrumentation have established a precedent in this educational field. The University Symphony Orchestra, numbering 60 members, has also been active in presenting several concerts, directed by Professor De Forest W. Ingerham.

The Girl's Glee Club, supervised by Mrs. Margaret A. Benedict, played host to the sixth annual gathering of more than 200 members of the Ohio Association of Girl's Glee Clubs, representing seven universities, when they met here to compete for a coveted trophy as best girl's glee club in the state. The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Professor C. C. Robinson, co-operated at that time, as it has on numerous occasions, in representing the spirit of Ohio University's welcome.

The Music-Lecture Course presented this year was the most expensive in the state, featuring such outstanding attractions as Galli-Curci, Tito Schipa, Will Irwin, and Paul Kochanski.

UNIVERSITY CHORUS

The Ohio University Chorus

COMPOSED of two hundred singers, the Ohio University Chorus has contributed much to the program of events in several major celebrations during recent years.

Last year the chorus played an important part in the dedication of the Alumni Memorial Auditorium, while at Christmas time, the group created the proper yuletide atmosphere by singing a number of Christmas Carols.

The chorus meets for practice once each week in Music Hall and is under the direction of Prof. C. C. Robinson, head of the school of Music.

The purpose of the organization is to foster and to preserve the works of masters, according to Prof. Robinson. The great popularity of the chorus is attributed to the fact that while developing vocal ability, it develops an appreciation of immortal music among the members. A detailed history of the events leading up to the writing of the song under consideration is given before practice.

Both men and women, many of whom are members of the glee clubs, take part in the activities of the chorus.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Men's Glee Club

THE Men's Glee Club of Ohio University is composed of about fifty of the best singers in the school. Under the direction of Prof. C. C. Robinson, head of the School of Music, the organization carries out a program each year that includes both local and distant appearances.

Try-outs are held in the spring for old members while the freshmen are given an opportunity to display their talent in the early fall.

Membership in the group is considered an honor at Ohio University because of the keen competition between the unusually large number of good singers. The School of Music at the university has an enviable reputation for thoroughness and graduates of this school have met with much success in after graduation work.

Each year the Ohio University Men's Glee Club competes in the Ohio Inter-collegiate Glee Club Contest. The winner of the state contest participates in the national contest.

Prof. Robinson has been head of the School of Music here for a number of years. Prior to his arrival here, he held a similar position at Pennsylvania State College.

WINNING of third place in the annual Eistedfodd at Jackson in October was one of the most important accomplishments of Ohio University's Girls' Glee Club during the past year. The club, with an entire personnel of 36 members, competed against city organizations that rank among the highest in the state.

Members of the Glee club are selected through competitive try-outs in which beauty and quality of voice play a large part. Mrs. Margaret Benedict, director, this spring finishes her fifth year on the campus.

The club appeared in several concerts during the year, one of them at Cambridge in January 25 the group broadcast from WAIU, at Columbus, and earlier in the week appeared in a program at convocation at the University.

The annual inter-collegiate song contest was held at Athens this year, with the Ohio University club competing with 6 other schools. Prior to 1930, the club has won first place once, and second place twice. Members of the club are also members of the university chorus, which also appeared before the student body in a special musical program. Presentation of the concert in Cambridge was a new plan worked out this year by Mrs. Benedict.

Ohio University Band

WITH the arrival of Prof. Curtiss W. Janssen, formerly of Sousa's famous military band, plans for the greatest student band in the history of the university were laid last summer. The result of the praiseworthy work of the man was a band of about 85 pieces, and an excellent one.

Prof. Janssen is a full time band instructor, a novelty for the Ohio campus. From his office in the Memorial Auditorium, he gives individual and group instruction in the use of instruments to every member of the musical organization.

Through his efforts, new instruments that are not often heard in such bands, were purchased. He conducted special classes in the trombone, the tuba, clarinet, and several other instruments. Throughout the school year, members of the band took part in convocation services.

That a band augments school spirit at athletic events has long been an accepted fact. Throughout the Bobcat's glorious football season, the band accompanied them on all of their trips and added further prestige to the university.

It might well be said that the band is a great advertiser of Ohio University. Their well trained marching, combined with Andy Mandula's impressive strutting and Prof. Janssen's comprehensive direction, never failed to impress the onlooker with a feeling of respect for the rise of Ohio's greatness.

Ohio University Orchestra

A GREAT deal of interest is displayed in the Ohio University Symphony orchestra both by students and members of the faculty. The musical organization is composed of about forty undergraduates and instructors who are interested in musical instruments.

An increasing number of students interested in music and whole-hearted efforts on the part of members of the faculty of the School of Music have brought about the growth of the group from about ten pieces to the present size. Practically every symphonic instrument from the flute to the timpani is represented in the organization.

Several recitals are given during the year both in Athens and in nearby cities. Frequently during the past year, members of the organization have furnished music for Convocation services.

DeForest W. Ingerham, head of the violin section of the school of music is conductor of the orchestra. He has been in charge for the last three years. He is former head of the same department at Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio.

The purpose of the organization is to give the students a thorough training in music in an effort to bring the works of the classics and modern music to the people of the state.

Art Colony

THOUGH not yet established in Bohemian quarters of the Greenwich Village type, the Art Colony has established itself on the Ohio University campus as a distinct group. Members of the organization have taken part in many student functions, and not the least of their accomplishments has been the completion of most of the art work for the 1930 Athena.

Founded as the Art Club of Ohio University in 1912, the organization had as its purpose the creation of a common interest among art majors and members of the art faculty. A new name, the "Art Colony," was adopted this year and members proceeded on a definitely outlined activity program.

The first meeting was a Chop Suey Supper in honor of the new art majors. Isobel Work gave an illustrative talk on art in connection with her European travels. Her manner of presentation was so delightful that it created much interest among the new members.

The Art Colony met again on December 10. The activity was to design and print individual Christmas greetings. The origin, history, usage, and process of making Christmas cards was woven into a charming story told by Germany Klemm. Design, color, and originality were the three points which she stressed.

Booklovers' Club

STIMULATION and increase of student interest in literary topics is the aim of the Booklovers' Club, organized here October 18, 1911, for the purpose of promoting the critical study of subjects of a literary and philosophical nature.

Although Booklovers' Club included the study of philosophical subjects in its initial resolve, the field has been limited for the most part to literature. The organization is primarily a study circle. Last year meetings took up lives and works of contemporary English poets, while this year study of contemporary American poets is being made.

Dr. H. R. Wilson, of the College of Education, was elected advisor and sponsor of the club at the time of its founding. He is also the originator of the club. Membership in the club is limited to 15 students. An appropriate literature course should be taken to prepare a background. Present members are Grago Battistone, Ralph Brown, Glenn A. Cole, Don Dowd, Charles Etsinger, John Hulbert, Edgar House, and Bedford B. Nelson.

ALL students registered in the school of commerce are eligible for membership in the Commerce Club, which ends its seventh year on the campus this spring. The club was organized in 1923 for the purpose of bringing into closer association students of the school of commerce, ex-students, and men of affairs.

First officers of the club were Wescott Roach, Ralph Beckert, Jennie May Cooley, and Steve Morgan. Included among the prominent men who have spoken to the club are President Bryan, Jason Westerfield, director of publicity of the New York Stock Exchange; George Camp, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Cleveland Federal Reserve Bank, and J. E. Perry, president of the Valley Mold and Iron Company of Hubbard. Each of the men are well known speakers.

Meetings of the club are held on the third Tuesday of every month, and election of officers is held in May, at the last meeting of the organization.

Speakers at meetings of the club during the past year have included prominent Athens business men and members of the University faculty.

English Club

E. W. Chubb - - - - - President
 Catherine Wilson - - - - - Secretary

DISCOVERY of creative literary talent among University students is the chief aim of the English Club, the oldest of departmental clubs on the campus. Membership in the organization is limited to students who are interested in writing, and who are especially proficient in English.

For more than thirty-five years the club has enjoyed a flourishing existence on the campus. At each meeting two or three members submit original stories or poems. Each production is then analyzed by club members on the points of style, choice of words, and elements of literary value. No critical work of contemporary authors is undertaken, but are limited instead to original effort.

The last meeting of the club is held in the form of a guest night, when each member is privileged to bring an interested friend. Meetings of the club are held in the home of Dean E. W. Chubb on Court street the first Tuesday of each month. Members, limited to a small number, are chosen by the club.

MADE up of twenty-five women from the undergraduate body who are interested in its field, the Folklore Club of Ohio University is entering the eleventh year of its existence.

The organization was formed to supply an outside source of information concerning the folklore of many lands. Phases of the subject, not touched upon in the classroom, are investigated and reported upon in the frequent meetings of the group.

During the past year, particular emphasis has been placed upon Irish, Indian, and Negro folklore. A committee in charge of program work designates which subject will be discussed at following meetings.

The Folklore Club was founded in November, 1919. Miss Mary E. Kahler, Associate Professor of English is faculty advisor. Membership is limited to twenty-five members. The written aim of the organization is "to stimulate an interest in folklore and to heighten the members' knowledge of the customs, traditions, and folk tales of America and other lands."

L'Alliance Francaise

L'ALLIANCE Francaise is the French Club of Ohio University, brought to the campus in 1914. The club is composed of advanced students especially interested in the language, customs and ideals of France. Monthly meetings are held to develop friendship and common interests among the members. The work of the club is under the direction and supervision of Professor Mary T. Noss, head of the French Department.

One of the annual features of the L'Alliance Francaise is the presentation of a French play. On Thursday evening, December 5, "Par Un Jour de Pluie" was presented by a cast of students of French in Memorial Auditorium before a large audience of students and other persons interested in the language. The play was given entirely in French.

On January 16, the French Club presented the moving picture of "Cyrano de Bergerac" a comedy of Rostand, to a large audience of students, townspeople and visitors from neighboring schools and colleges in a matinee and evening performance. The picture was an exceptionally fine one made in France and played by leading French actors. The bringing of the movie to the campus resulted in an outstanding success for the club and a deeper appreciation of French literature for the audience.

Interesting features of club work already presented this year consist of a scene taken from Mme. de Rambouillet's salon written and presented by the students under the direction of Miss Noss and the presentation of the Christmas scenes taken from Maeterlick's "Bluebird" given at the Christmas meeting of the club. These are only a few of the activities listed for the year's work.

Home Economics Club

REORGANIZED after a year of inactivity, the Home Economics Club of Ohio University has taken an active interest in developing a deeper understanding of problems that confront the home economics teacher when she assumes her duties as instructor.

The Club was established in October, 1925, by a group of home economics majors who desired to gain practical knowledge of the teaching of their chosen subject. The club continued to assemble during 1926, '27, and '28. However, late in 1928 the organization dissolved because of lack of leadership and interest.

With the active aid and interest of Miss Velma Phillips, head of the department of Home Economics, the club was reorganized and started the 1929-30 school year with renewed zeal.

Meetings of the group are both social and educational in nature. Miss Lunn, director of the state department of Home Economics, addressed members of the club in a recent meeting. Money for the organization is obtained by the selling of sandwiches to students living in dormitories. Part of the proceeds are given to the Ellen H. Richards fellowship fund.

ORGANIZED October 23 by a group of eighteen girls interested in intermediate education, the Intermediate Grade Club this spring ends its first year on the campus. Members of the new organization are students taking from two to four year courses in intermediate work, faculty members and grade teachers.

Eighty members were enrolled at the first regular meeting of the club, November 6th. A constitution, drawn up by a committee, headed by Grace McIlvaine, was later amended and adopted. Aim of the organization, as set forth in the constitution, is the furthering of professional growth, and the gaining of a broader and richer view of each special field of education through the programs.

Meetings of the club are held on the second Wednesday at Putman Hall. Programs presented are for the most part educational, and include talks by faculty members and others interested in education. Discussions of teaching problems and book reviews are also important parts of the programs.

Miss Mary Ward, Miss Dunham, and Dr. Hansen are advisors of the club. Initial organization was effected through the presentation of a petition drawn up by the eighteen students with the aid of Dr. Hansen, to Dean McCracken.

THE Industrial Arts Club received its recognition by the Campus Affairs Committee to function as an organization on the Ohio campus in the fall of 1927. Soon after its recognition by the campus it started its club activities.

The purpose of the club is to promote the co-operation of prospective teachers of Industrial Arts, to foster a spirit of fellowship, and to advance the interchange of useful information and ideas.

The membership of the club is composed of those students who are either majoring or minoring in Industrial Arts. Last year the club had a membership of eighteen, this year it has a membership of thirty-one members. Twenty-two of these thirty-one members are new to the club.

The three members of the faculty who are members of the club are: Prof. Dow S. Grones, Prof. Charles R. Kinison, Prof. G. E. McLaughlin.

Wesley Foundation Council

THE year 1927-1928 saw the enlargement of the Wesley Foundation Council to its present inclusive scope that the religious needs of Methodist students could be more effectively ministered. The Council serves as the governing body of the Wesley Foundation, a group of several hundred Methodist students at Ohio University and their friends all working together in a program which makes it possible for them to make friends, to meet in happy social contacts, to find expression and interest through music, public speaking, dramatics, to train them in group organization and to receive instruction in life's highest ideals.

The Sunday morning church service is the most important activity of the entire program sponsored by the Council. Addresses in the Student Classes on Sunday mornings by Dr. W. A. Matheny give insights into religion in the thought and terms of today. Frequent group discussions in the weekly vespers on Sunday evening aid the student in interpreting life and its problems.

The work of the Council is under the efficient leadership of Rev. Arlie Krussell, Wesley Foundation Pastor. Rev. Krussell serves, in addition, as an advisor to many of the church groups and organizations.

EFFORTS to discover and interpret through programs of worship and discussion the religious problems and interests of university students occupy first place in the year's schedule of work for the Presbyterian Westminister Council.

Varied activities, ranging from poetry club, drama club, and handicraft club to the teaching of Sunday school classes are carried on regularly, through the council. A home hour, followed by vesper service is a feature of each Sunday evening.

Other activities include an orchestra, a choir, and the monthly publication, The Fellow. Frequently during the year parties are held, hikes are taken, and banquets given. The Council sponsors an annual Christmas party for the children of the Athens County orphanage. A fellowship banquet late in the spring closes the social program.

Work of the council is under the direction of Miss Ruby Hankey, the new student secretary. The Rev. A. Y. Wilcox, pastor, and Dr. Gammertsfelder of the Philosophy Department of the university serve as advisers. Members of the Council cabinet are Mildred Bell, Olive Carpenter, Mary Clark, Foster Cornwell, Leavitt Gard, Ruth Humphrey, Dorothy Jefferson, Dorothy F. Jones, Christine Porter, Lucille Smith, Harold Swigart, Robert Young, Rose Zenn.

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet

THE Young Women's Christian Association was founded on the Campus of Ohio University in 1897. It was the object of the group who began this movement to become part of the national Y. W. C. A. This object was realized in 1906, and from then until now the local organization has been a credit to the name of Y. W. C. A.

It is the custom and the purpose of the group to help the people of the surrounding mining towns in all ways possible. Since 1915 the young women have conducted Sunday schools in out of the way hamlets. For the last twelve years they have done social work, proving themselves very capable and willing. Other projects that have been carried on include the story hour for children in their homes, and also entertainment for the wives of poverty-stricken miners.

The governing body of the organization is the Cabinet, which is made up of twelve members, with Dean Irma E. Voigt as adviser. It is this group of twelve that is responsible for the planning and execution of the program that is carried out each year.

The Y. W. C. A. is active on the campus as well as in surrounding towns. The Prep Follies, which are open to pledges of the sororities, and the discussion groups for any women who care to participate, are sponsored by the organization.

Y. W. C. A. Sub Cabinet

THE Sub Cabinet of the Young Women's Christian Association is the junior governing body of the organization. It is composed of fifteen girls, and acts under the supervision of Dr. Edith Wray. The members are all appointed by the members of the Cabinet, each of whom has a representative on the Sub Cabinet and in some cases two. Their work is to supplement the work of the Cabinet and to carry out those projects which originate in their own group.

It is this department that is chiefly in charge of the Christmas work. Each year as the Christmas season arrives, its duty is to distribute gifts among the poor in the Hocking Valley District. During the last holiday season two hundred fifty girls took part in making a Christmas for over seven hundred children. Dolls were the chief gift. These dolls were sold to the girls who in turn dressed them and gave them to the children.

Another work of the Sub Cabinet is the assembling of scrap books to send to a graduate of Ohio University who is teaching in Algiers. These books are intended to show the girls of that part of the world something about American life, in which they are very much interested. The organization also supports a Y. W. C. A. secretary in China.

One of the important purposes of the Sub Cabinet is to train girls for more responsible offices, usually on the Cabinet. The Vice President of the Y. W. C. A. is automatically made chairman of the Sub Cabinet.

Bethany Council

ORGANIZED to serve as a link between the Christian Church and Ohio University, Bethany council has progressed through interesting and varied programs to a point where it is now an integral and important factor in the life of the younger church members. Its present aim is to serve as a sympathetic medium between the church and the students.

Parties, held on an average of once a month, provided social interest that adds greatly to the well balanced religious program that is carried out by the council. An annual pageant, held in May, is the climax of the social activities.

Members of the group are both students who are Christian church followers by denomination, and those who are members of the church by preference during their stay in Athens. The name of the council is appropriate. It was taken from the oldest institution established by the Christian church, Bethany College, in West Virginia. The council is governed by a cabinet comprising the officers of the Sunday school and the Christian Endeavor.

George Wagner is chairman of the cabinet, and other members are Laura Cruller, Audrey Jacobs, Sanford Kearns, Robert Kinney, Edna Parrin, and James Papritan.

RECOGNIZED as a needed adjunct to musical departments of the University, the Public School Music Club, organized here in 1921, has been since its establishment one of the most progressive musical organizations on the campus.

The object of the club, according to its constitution, is to further a closer relationship among the members of the school music departments, and to promote the social and musical welfare of its members. Business meetings are held the second Tuesday of each month; when problems of local interest and national music events that are of special importance to the club are discussed. About fifty girls comprise the list of members.

For several years the club has played a prominent part in student musical productions. Last year the club participated largely in the Skit Show, "Robin Hood's Revelry," members of the club forming a background of the show as choruses.

Although it is devoted in a great measure to musical interests, it has also, in the past year, had several social events. A formal dinner in February, and an annual tea for musical students this spring were among the most important.

PHI BETA KAPPA, the premier organization among all college honorary scholastic fraternities, was established at William and Mary College in 1766. Lambda Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was installed at Ohio University in the spring of 1929. There are now 114 chapters in the United States. The fraternity is not international.

Election to Phi Beta Kappa is the highest honor which may be bestowed upon a college student, the primary purpose of the fraternity being to honor scholarship. Both men and women may be elected to membership. A student, to be eligible for election to Phi Beta Kappa, must have attained senior standing, he must have maintained a scholastic average of at least 2.5 throughout his college course, placing him among the upper tenth of his class, and not less than seventy-five per cent of his work must have been in subjects of non-vocational or non-technical nature. The membership lists of Phi Beta Kappa include the most distinguished group of literary and scholarly men and women in America, a group which composes a major portion of the annual edition of "Who's Who".

Delta Phi Delta

DELTA PHI DELTA, professional art fraternity, is one of the most active professional groups on the Ohio Campus. Combining a study of theory with actual practice, the members pool their knowledge in an attempt to study their subject from a standpoint that is not touched upon in the classroom.

The national organization was started at the University of Kansas. The Palette Club, founded in 1909 on that campus later became the first chapter of Delta Phi Delta. The national founding occurred on May 28, 1912. Iota Chapter at Ohio University was founded in May, 1921.

Students from the art departments of both the College of Education and the College of Liberal Arts are eligible for membership. Under the direction of faculty members, the organization seeks to elect to membership the type of student that gives greatest promise of professional ability.

Part of the work of the organization was the art work in this volume. The greater part of the division and opening pages were made by members of Delta Phi Delta.

Kappa Delta Pi

KAPPA DELTA PI, honorary educational fraternity, was founded at the University of Illinois in 1909 as a local organization, the Illinois Education Club. It was incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois on June 8, 1911. The encouragement of high professional and scholastic standings during preparation for teaching, and the recognition of outstanding service in education are the purposes of the fraternity.

Omega Chapter was installed at Ohio University on August 7, 1923, under the leadership of Dean Thomas C. McCracken, a member of Theta Chapter, Greeley, Colorado, and Dean Irma E. Voigt, of Alpha Chapter, University of Illinois. Dean McCracken has been president of the national organization of Kappa Delta Pi for the past several years.

At the end of the school year, Omega Chapter publishes a magazine, the Omegan, under the direction of Dean Voigt. Accounts of the year's work and news of various members make up the contents of the publication. The national fraternity published the Kadelpian, a quarterly, as its official organ.

Eta Sigma Phi

ETA SIGMA PHI was founded at the University of Chicago in 1924 as an honorary fraternity for outstanding classical students. The following year Beta, at Northwestern University and Gamma at Ohio University were installed. Since that time the growth of the organization has been rapid. At the present time the chapter roll numbers thirty-eight chapters.

The object of bringing Beta chapter of Eta Sigma Phi to this campus was to stimulate an interest in the classical studies. Thus far this object is being realized.

Each year a Christmas card sale is held. The proceeds of this sale go to buy prizes for the bi-annual contest on Vergilian themes. The prizes for this are three loving cups which go to the writers of the three best themes submitted. The contest is open to those high schools which have some connection with the organization, either from which the members have been graduated or in which a member may be teaching. Another activity of this chapter is to offer an Eta Sigma Phi medal for the highest average in Latin to a student in any high school from which a senior of the fraternity has been graduated.

The faculty adviser of the organization is Pro. V. D. Hill. Other faculty members are Prof. Harry F. Scott and Grace G. Roberts.

Alpha Kappa Delta

STUDENTS of high scholastic standing, interested in sociology, are members of Alpha Kappa Delta, national honorary sociological fraternity, which was organized here four years ago.

The organization endeavors to form a closer union among sociology students, and to promote the development of the science. Prominent sociologists from various parts of the country address the organization at its meetings. From this plan, members gain a broader viewpoint of the science, and a wide diversity of opinion is presented to them.

A marked attempt to acquaint the student with the practical side of sociology, as apart from the purely theoretical aspect, has been made in the meetings the past year. With the members more deeply interested than casual students in the field, it is possible to pursue study of sociology in actual as well as abstract phases.

Advisors of the club, under whose leadership the active members work, are Professors I. E. Ash, H. J. Jeddelloh, and S. H. Bing, of the department of Sociology.

OHIO MEN

Dean of Men

JOHN REED JOHNSTON

JOHN REED JOHNSTON came to Ohio University in 1928 as the first Dean of Men for the institution. The growth of the enrollment together with the widening of the curriculum made it imperative that a man who could advise and encourage men students be summoned.

In his two years of service, Dean Johnston has devoted his entire time to moulding Ohio men. Vocational, social, and scholastic problems of students are solved by him in a manner that leaves the perplexed undergraduate confident and enlightened.

Last fall freshman week was held under the direction of the dean. In a series of meetings with both faculty members and upperclassmen, the traditions, customs, history, and purposes of the university were related to small groups of newcomers. Throughout the past year each freshman had private conferences with the dean.

Dean Johnston is to be congratulated upon his successful completion of two years devoted to removing obstacles in the path of the Ohio man. Only such a combination of executive ability, far sightedness, sympathy, and intuition, as is possessed by the dean, could have made possible the success of his work.

Torch

TORCH, Ohio University's honor society for men, was established in May, 1913.

At that time, spirit and enthusiasm were thought to be at a low ebb on the campus. Professor C. N. Mackinnon recognized this fact and sought a means of changing the situation. The establishment of Torch resulted.

In establishing it the requisites were made of such high standards that only those who had really accomplished something worthwhile for the university could become eligible for membership. The undergraduate's activities must have been in two major fields at least before he could have been considered. His scholarship must also have met the organization's requirements in average for his years spent here, and the candidate must be a good campus citizen. A democratic attitude and the ability to mix well are essential.

A fine display of sacrifice was made by the founders of Torch. The group that first composed it, selected the men whom they believed to be worthy of such honor. After selections were made they withdrew from the meetings and the organization in order that the campus would not misunderstand their purpose in creating the groups.

Torch was established for the purpose of recognizing outstanding achievements in the above mentioned three fields. It stands as a goal rather than as a means to an end.

FOUR years ago a group of upperclassmen formed an organization dedicated to the promotion of campus activities and the better interests of Ohio University. One year later, in 1927, a charter was granted by the honorary men's organization, Blue Key, the local group becoming the twenty-eighth of the society.

Blue Key was founded at the University of Florida by several undergraduate students who realized the need on their campus for an organization which would sponsor affairs and pledge itself to the progress of the University. In a short time the scope of its activities spread to other schools, and chapters were installed, until now Blue Key is represented at many of the nations leading colleges and universities.

Blue Key has as its standards, scholarship, student activities, and campus leadership, upon which the selection of members is based. Membership is composed of two men from each social and professional fraternity and two unaffiliated representatives. Meetings are held twice a month one of which is a luncheon meeting, at which plans and problems of interest to Ohio University are discussed.

IN October, 1923, Russell Tubaugh, Claire Hughley, Loren Statts, and Norris Murphy met to discuss and study poetry. From their study of poetry they became interested in expression and public speaking. The organization grew and as the emphasis was put more and more on public speaking and debate, it became very prominent, not only on the campus, but wherever its members made an appearance in debate or public speaking.

Their reward for their efforts came when a letter was received by Professor Cooper, of the Department of Public Speaking from the national headquarters of Phi Delta Gamma expressing a desire to install a chapter here.

The Ohio University chapter of Phi Delta Gamma was officially established June 17, 1924.

At the present time the organization is interested primarily in debate. More than half of the members have been on the Ohio University varsity debating team. They have also promoted intramural debate by offering a silver loving cup to the organization winning the debate held under their auspices.

THE need of an organization for the promotion of music upon the Ohio campus has ever been to the fore, and the dreams of those interested in the project were finally realized seven years ago through the efforts of Professor C. C. Robinson.

The establishment of Schubert Club was the first move in a drive toward the goal of a national musical fraternity for the advancement of music in the university.

In April, 1924, the final step was taken when Alpha Kappa chapter of Phi Mu Alpha, Sinfonia, took its place among the campus organizations.

Steady growth of the group has marked the passing of the years here, until now Phi Mu Alpha exercises a powerful influence in the realm of music and numbers among its members many of the leading men on the campus.

Many musical attractions are sponsored by the group each year, one in connection with Sigma Alpha Iota, girl's honorary musical, until now the unfamiliar observer can easily notice a growth in the appreciation of music throughout the school.

The school owes a great deal to this group for its splendid fight to establish a love of music in the student body, for Phi Mu Alpha has done much toward the attainment of this goal.

ADMITTING this year, for the first time since 1926, men who were connected with social fraternities, Pi Epsilon Mu, honorary engineering fraternity, again is taking an active part in campus affairs following a three year period of comparative inactivity.

Selection for membership in the fraternity is considered the highest engineering honor attainable in campus activities. Only sophomore, junior, and senior engineering students whose grades are rated above the average are considered for membership. For the period between 1926 and 1929, men holding membership in social fraternities on the campus were ineligible for Pi Epsilon Mu, but the new ruling, which went into effect at the beginning of the year, admits outstanding engineering students irrespective of fraternal affiliations.

Pi Epsilon Mu was first established here in 1922, as an honorary for electrical engineering students. In 1925 it became open to civil engineering students as well. Weekly meetings are held on Tuesdays, when original papers are read concerning related engineering subjects. Frequently, well known engineers address the group.

COMPOSED of outstanding junior and senior men in the school of journalism, Delta Gamma Mu is a group organized with the intention of supplementing classroom work with actual experience in the newspaper game.

Men prominent in the field of journalism from many parts of Ohio are invited by the group to present the things that are, in their minds, the most important phases of news gathering and writing. At almost every one of the weekly meetings of the group, some experienced journalist is present, relating experiences and answering questions.

When Will Irwin, who is called "the ace of correspondents", was in Athens as a part of the Music-Lecture Course, a banquet in his honor was arranged by the group.

The organization was founded in 1928. Members of the faculty of the department of Journalism were instrumental in the establishment of the group and have shown great interest in its progress since its beginning. The editorial rooms of the Athens Messenger are used as a meeting place.

Alumni members of the group were able to secure excellent positions after graduation through the contacts established while members of Delta Gamma Mu.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers

T. A. Elder	-	-	-	-	-	President

Everett McCoppin	-	-	-	-	-	Secretary

THE American Institute of Electrical Engineers is the representative national organization of the electrical engineering profession. It was founded in 1884 with the idea of advancing the interest of electrical engineering and of allied arts and sciences, the maintenance of a high professional standing among its members, and the development of the individual engineer.

The local chapter was founded, as were others, to give students the benefits of the research carried on by the organization and to give them an added interest in the profession that they intend to follow. They are eligible upon graduation with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering to become members of the national organization which is made up of the foremost workers of the field.

Membership in the local organization is limited to those above the freshman rank, who are majoring in electrical engineering, and who are enrolled in the institute.

Meetings of the chapter are held at regular intervals. These are characterized by discussions and talks on the subject.

Professor Albert A. Atkinson is the faculty advisor and was largely responsible for the existence of a branch of the institute on this campus.

TAKING an active part in campus activities in spite of its newness, Phi Sigma Upsilon, Christian church fraternity, is one of the most recent church organizations founded here. The greek letter society was organized last fall by a group of men at the church.

The new club fills a definite need in the church, providing friendly contacts and social gatherings for the younger church members. Twelve charter members participated in the formation. They are: Sandford Keairns, Earl Sticklen, Robert Kinney, George Wyckoff, Charles Zeki, George Wagner, Garth Keller, Harold Taff, Raymond Smith, Fred Gross, Heber Riegel, and Earl Pflieger.

Phi Sigma Upsilon aims to foster better Christian fellowship and bring Christian men on the campus into a closer social environment. It has as its motto, "Unity, Fellowship, and Service." Meetings of the club are held on the first and third Wednesdays of each month. It has sponsored several parties during its first year of existence, and has filled a much needed want of those students who are members of no social fraternity or similar order.

BELIEF that organization of a fraternity for Methodist student men would further the creation and maintenance of a firm relationship between the college and the church lead in December of 1928 to the establishment of Alpha Chapter, Mu Sigma Mu, here. Nineteen university students signed the charter.

Although the fraternity is of a social-religious character, membership in the organization resembles that of an honorary, since it recognizes exceptional service to the church. Membership is open to Methodist and Methodist preference students who have shown special interest in participation in church activities.

Mu Sigma Mu played a large part in the campaign for affiliate members last fall. The outstanding project cared for during the current year was the soliciting of funds for the establishment of a library at the church. The keyword of the organization is service.

Arlie Krussell, student pastor of the church, is adviser for the group. Active members are:

The Inter-Fraternity Council

THE Men's Inter-fraternity Council of Ohio University is composed of representatives from each of the well established social fraternities on the campus. Two students, the president of the fraternity and a junior representative, comprise the membership from each house.

Meetings are held at monthly intervals in the Inter-fraternity Council rooms, located on the second floor of the Men's Union. Dean of Men, John Reed Johnston, acts in the capacity of a sponsor of the group. Unlike men of his position in other institutions, he acts not in a dictatorial or dogmatic fashion, but merely as an advocate of progress on the part of the fraternities on the Ohio campus.

The council members work together in an effort to make for honest rushing and pledging. Rules governing informal initiation activities are made and enforced by the body. Suggestions concerning the direction of groups both in discipline and finance are exchanged by the leaders.

An Inter-fraternity Ball was planned for the past year but was later given up because of difficulties in planning the affair. If deferred pledging ever becomes a reality on the Ohio campus, it will have been through the work of this group.

IRMA E. VOIGT

Women's League Committee, furthering of Y. W. C. A. work, and the making of plans for the presentation of a pageant in the spring.

Dean Voigt did much for the unprecedented success of the annual discussion group meetings and firesides the past year. Consideration, tact, and fairness shown to every girl have much to do with her great popularity. Dean Voigt received her Ph. D. in 1913 from the University of Illinois.

PERSONAL contact with each of her women students is one of the chief aims of Irma E. Voigt, dean of women at Ohio University. Freshmen conferences, in which every new girl is called to her office for a fifteen minute talk, play an important part in fulfillment of the ambition.

The conferences have been begun this year for the first time, with women. Other innovations of the year, accomplished through the steady and tireless work of Dean Voigt, include a series of talks given to representatives of each hall, sorority house, and private rooming place at the monthly meetings of the

A GAIN selecting its members on the basis of scholarship, extra-curricular activities and personality, Cresset, women's honorary organization, ends its seventeenth year on the campus.

The society was organized in 1913, with Miss Elizabeth Bohen faculty adviser. Dean Voigt became an honorary member in September, 1913, and became faculty advisor in 1915, following Miss Bohen's resignation. Since then Cresset selections have been made on a strictly democratic basis, although for the last ten years no concessions have been made for scholarship.

Requirements for membership in the organization include active participation and leadership in several campus activities, unusual personality, and a straight B average. Candidates are judged both by the number of activities in which they have taken part, and the thoroughness with which they have fulfilled their duties.

Cresset, by its own choice, has remained local rather than becoming national, because its standards are higher than any national organization. The former system of counting points for extra-curricular activities has been abandoned, due to the ineffectiveness of the plan. Students selected are all prominent in activities on the campus.

SPONSORING as a part of its annual activities for the fifth time this year, the award of $50.00 to the freshman girl, a major in voice, violin or piano who makes the highest scholastic record, Sigma Alpha Iota, national music sorority, closes its sixth year on the campus with a fine record of concerts and musicales presented to the student body.

Sigma Beta chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota was organized at Ohio University in 1924, taking the place of Gamma chapter of Beta Pi Omega. Its members are students showing exceptional talent along some musical line, and are chosen on a basis of scholarship, ability and personality.

Seven University of Michigan women in 1903 were the organizers of Beta Pi Omega, which preceded Sigma Alpha Iota on the campus. Honorary members of the organization are artists of national and international fame. Madame Louise Homer was the first to be initiated.

Sigma Alpha Iota has built and endowed a cottage in Peterboro Colony, at Peterboro, New Hampshire, where creative artists may escape from the city to work.

ORGANIZED for the purpose of promoting a closer bond between physical education majors, Phi Delta Pi, honorary sorority, was organized here two years ago, April 14. It took the place of Phi Alpha Pi, local sorority.

Members of the organization are students who have shown outstanding ability in physical education, and who have the required grade average. Lambda Chapter of Phi Delta Pi, made the eleventh chapter of the organization. The sorority was organized at the Normal College of the American Gymnastic Union at Indianapolis, Ind., and received the charter in 1917. It was later incorporated by the state, alumni chapters were organized, and a Grand Council elected.

The first national convention of Phi Delta Pi was held in 1919, at Lake Wawasee, Indiana.

FINISHING its second year on the campus, Kappa Phi, Methodist sorority, was organized here in 1928 for the purpose of developing leadership in each individual and making closer relations between young Methodist students.

It took the place of the former Philonia Club, organized by Mrs. Irene Park Jones in 1927. Kappa Phi was founded originally at Kansas University, Emporia, Kansas, by Mrs. Gordon B. Thompson, and has chapters at state and independent colleges throughout the country.

Meetings of the sorority alternate social with program sessions, and are held every two weeks. Committee chairmen are Elizabeth Phillips, Virginia Caldwell, Myrtle Horlacher, Evelyn Underwood, Katherine Hymen, Caroline Gerlach, Pauline Whitlatch.

Patronesses are, Mrs. T. R. Biddle, Mrs. George Coe, Mrs. C. M. Coulter, and Mrs. R. A. Foster.

ORGANIZED for the purpose of giving women Journalism majors an added opportunity to study problems facing journalists, Sigma Rho, Women's Journalistic fraternity, ends its second year on the campus.

Members are girls majoring in journalism who display unusual ability in writing. Entrance requirements also include a C average. Initial scholastic requirement a B in all subjects, but the rule was later changed to a straight C.

Sigma Rho was organized in 1928. Meetings are held weekly in offices of student publications, and are often featured by talks by well known newspaper men or women. Following the talk, a round table discussion is held. Correction of the papers of high school journalism is part of the constructive work.

Purposes and aims of the organization include the promotion of better acquaintance between members of the faculty and the student body, and the presentation of practical problems in writing.

No first semester freshman can be pledged to the organization. Members have all done outstanding work on the Green and White, the Athena, or the Green Goat.

Sigma Phi Mu

FORMED to benefit women students of the school of commerce by bringing them into closer association with each other, with ex-students, and women of affairs, Sigma Phi Mu, honorary commerce fraternity, ends its third year at Ohio University this spring.

Only women working toward degrees of A. B. in Commerce, A. B. majoring or minoring in commerce, B. S. majoring or minoring in commerce, and B. S. S. are eligible for the fraternity. Advanced freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors are eligible, also. A "C" average is required for membership.

Talks given by business women of Athens and well known women interested in some field of commerce from other cities make up a basic part of the programs of the meetings, which are designed for both instruction and pleasure.

The organization maintains a room on the second floor of West Wing, where the meetings and any social functions of the organization are held.

Sigma Phi Mu offers annually a prize to the sophomore girl who has made the highest average grade in all her studies in the first two years of an A. B. in Commerce, A. B. majoring or minoring in Commerce, B. S. in education majoring or minoring in commerce, or B. S. S. courses, provided that 40 per cent of the subjects have been in Commerce and Economics. The award is made at the beginning of each school year.

KAPPA BETA, the national organization of university women of Disciples of Christ, was founded at the University of Michigan, February 11, 1911. The object of the organization was to maintain a friendly relationship among student women of Disciples of Christ by social and religious activities.

The local chapter was organized in September of 1928. Its name was Kalai Kagathai. This is the Greek for Girls with Ideals. The organization was fostered by the First Christian Church of Athens.

On April 13, 1929, Kalai Kagathai was installed as Kappa Chapter of Kappa Beta by Miss Grace Goslin, the national president.

Since its organization as a local religious institution it has been their custom to participate in some charity program. During the past two years the members have given their attention to the district surrounding the town of Circle Hill. In that vicinity they have taught Sunday Schools, and tried to aid the people who have been unfortunate in not having the usual advantages.

The social side of the program is expressed by several social functions throughout the year.

To be a member of this organization one must have a "C" average in all work carried and have either a preference or a direct affiliation with the Christian Church.

Phi Upsilon Omicron

SUPERVISING, as part of the professional and instructive work of the organization, a weekly class of girls at the Children's Home, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Home Economics fraternity, this year made a definite improvement in its yearly program.

Theta Chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron was organized here in 1921, to establish and strengthen the bonds of friendship, promote moral and intellectual development of its members, and to advance and promote Home Economics. Senior girls who have studied methods and student teaching are in charge of the work at the Children's Home.

Each year the sophomore major who has received the highest grades for her first three semesters has her name engraved on the Scholarship cup, which is kept in possession of the fraternity. One important step taken by the fraternity is cooperation and active work in the establishment of the model home, formerly the Omega Beta Pi house, which was set aside for the Home Economic group as a working field of practical education.

Mr. Thomas Byrne
Ohio University
Athens, Ohio.

Dear Sir:

I have never been to Ohio University, but as I look at these photographs of beauties, am considering matriculation at once, if the age limit will permit.

This Ohio University contest made the fifty-seventh beauty contest which I have judged, and I can honestly say I have never found so high an average of beauty!

It is unfortunate that the judging had to be made from photographs, unfortunate for many girls who would rate much higher in actual life--and, of course, most unfortunate for me that I could not meet such a wealth of beauty.

Very truly yours,

Pan-Hellenic Council

Theora Bartholomew - - - - - President
 Margaret Schick - - - - - Secretary

THE local Pan-Hellenic Council was founded in 1908. Since that time it has functioned to solve the problems that confront the sororities as a group. The council is made up of two representatives from each of the organizations on the campus. All social sororities automatically become members as soon as they come into existence. The first year of the organization's life on the campus is its probationary year with the council, and if it is satisfactory, they then become regular members.

The presidency of the council goes to the sorority which is next in the number of years of age on the campus, to that which last had the office.

At the present time the Pan-Hellenic Council is starting a new project, that of creating an endowment fund. The interest from this fund will be the prize for the sorority which has the highest scholarship for a second and first semester. It is the plan to enlarge this fund each year until it reaches five hundred dollars. The prize must be used for furniture for the house or the club room of the sorority which wins the prize.

It is the custom of the council to sponsor a formal dance each year. This affair is one of the outstanding social events of the year.

AROUND THE TOWN

Sq-r-r-k! G-r-r-ah! ---And now ladies and the receiving ends of life's batteries, you are being forced to listen to station WHOOSH broadcasting for no apparent reason on a frequency of thirty-two motorcycles by authority of something or other here in this land of benighted freedom. When you hear the stroke of the pen you will know that once more the molten (correction, we mean golden) voice of K. Jefferson McManahemingway in his hour program of "Around the Town" is forced on you.

Everywhere over this great land people are eagerly turning the dials of their radio in an attempt to shut our station from all mortal ears, and everywhere young children are crying for mother to chase the bogey-boo man, that's hiding in the radio, away.

THE BIG CITY

Be that as it may we're still forced to introduce Mr. McManahemingway, and to reluctantly tell you that he is taking us for a tour today thru that very well known Ohio town of-of-now just a moment folks. It seems to have slipped my mind--oh, yes, that very well known town of Athens. Here he is, and may God have mercy on your poor souls.

Good evening friends of radioland. This is the incomprehensible, pardon folks, the word is incomparable, K. Jefferson McManahemingway. Yoo-hoo!

Ah yes, and tonight, everybody, we lash our pocketbooks tight, wild on all the spare parts on the auto, get our automatic revolver and our effective blackjack, and all go to pay a peaceful call on the slumbering little burg--village--of Athens.

What a sight that unrolls before us as our motor wars into Athens. Everywhere, everything is beauty. In the pitch black darkness of midnight it looks magnificent. I can't see my hand in front of me but it's beautiful just the same.

Constantly Searching

FOR centuries astronomers have looked into the skies searching for new worlds, constellations and stars. Aside from their interesting research work, they have learned much that is of practical scientific value.

Similarly, in the field of student publications, the Indianapolis Engraving Company searches constantly for new ideas, plans and methods that will assist year-book staffs to publish successfully books characteristic of their school and community. The results of these efforts are gratifying.

The Annual Planning and Designing Department welcomes your inquiries for further information.

THE KAKE EATERS

Ah! I see our first stop looming up before us--a most magnificently designed building which exudes an air of something or other. Now before we enter, folks, we'll tell you a little scandal about this hovel. There's three absolutely prohibited in the city--the city dump, the glue factory, and the building which we stand before now.

Hmm! Let's light a match to see just where we are! Here's a nameplate containing the letters TKE! Oh yes, that stands for "Thugs, Killers Extraordinary." There's a sound of ash cans being shoved around and the door opens. Ah, from a cloud of smoke comes the keeper of the shack--Al Moon. He invites us in, but the ashes are getting in our eyes so we'll have to leave. Give'er the gas, Gus.

AMPLIFIED SEX APPEAL

And we speed merrily on to the second flag stop. We carrom merrily from the porch with a resounding smack, thereby precipitating some twelve couples out into the front yard. Our first guess is correct, the Alpha Sig house. Thor Olsen is said to be casting envious eyes out that direction. Maybe the personnel of the team next year will be changed, who knows?

boiler factory on double shift. Jukes is building scenery in the parlor, Koterba and Dave Reese have the floor, table, and even the ceiling in another room, arguing over the relative merits and demerits of Ohio U. women with particular stress on the latter. We attempt to get thru but Jukes has the passage blocked, and we're forced to give up.

FAT MAMMAS

Out to our noble steed once more and we steam up West State Street to the abode of Phi Mu. The house is located next to the Athens High School so they can get the jump on the others for future sorority timber. They have to go somewhere for material, you know. We finally are invited to leave by the chapter who accuse us of having designs on the chapter's Buick. That always looks good to bewildered girls.

SEVERAL DUMB PHELLOWS

Well, after getting them all back on the line of scrummage, we hasten to depart and arrive with a war in front of the Sigma Delta Phi house. Palo is out, so consequently the chapter house is deserted so we leave again in a cloud of smoke.

POTENTIAL KNECKERS

Oh yes, and now comes the Pi Kap house. If we can get thru the crowd of Phi Taus that are cluttering up the scenery for several blocks we'll let you see the inside of the girls' house. It seems to be a nice place but appearances are often deceiving. Oh yes, about the girls. You'd like a statement about the sisters. Well friends of radioland, my answer is--that's a mighty fine house they have.

ASSORTED DAMSELS PROMISCUOUS

The Alpha Delt stuccoed six and bath houses an assortment that is unique and pleasing. They used to have a sign "For Ladies Only" but Gent got in. There is plenty of room under their back porch.

DAMES SO EAGER

Heigh-ho! And up Congress Street we speed. (That last word is open for debate.) And here's the home of the Delta Sig tribe. We're hauled savagely into said house and told eagerly that we're to meet the four outstanding girls from the house, Bartholomew, ditto, ditto, and likewise.

GIN, GAS, GAWKS

We'd like to stay longer but there's a stampede just arrived from the Tri Gam house and we've already lost half our clothes in the shuffle. "Let's do the 'Vanishing American'."

TRIBE UNUSUAL

So we journey on up to the Theta U. house. We enter the domicile, gently spraying formaldehyde around, for maybe somewhere in the dim corners lurks the dread smallpox germ. Our interview here is a washout, though, because the whole chapter's upon North Hill looking at the moon?

SEVENTEEN DEPRESSED ROMEOS

Sigma Delta Rho is the next spasm but the house is deserted save for Keefe. One of the brothers found fifty cents in his pocket and since it was the first time in the history of the fraternity, the entire group retired enmasse to the "Spot" to celebrate. Keefe was left behind to guard the illuminated sign. Ho hum!

LOUTISH, CUMBERSOME ATHLETES
Well let's bounce along to the Lambda Chi house. The boys seem pretty worried about Henderson down at Shreveport. His attacks on chain stores seems to be striking close home. The boys informed me they had eighty some chapters but since I've been gone ten minutes they probably have ninety-four. They say they're going to paint the fronts of their houses red. Hmm!

DON'T TELL DADDY

And now we round the curve and steam up to the Delta Tau Delta house. Cundiff and Byrne are out waving their hands at the Pullman passengers on the National Limited. Such popularity must be deserved. Martindill is casting envious eyes at the dining car. He eats at a college fraternity house, too. Our entire time here is an attempt to find out just where the Deltas were founded. Both Bethany and Ohio claims the honor. Bethany swears they were founded at Ohio and Ohio argues loudly that they were founded at Bethany. But after all, what about it?

FIFTY DESPERATE THUGS

Around the bend and we hesitate again. No wonder we hesitate--it's the Phi Delt house. The preps are conducting army manouvers on the front lawn. The formation is that of a brigade, and I believe that a brigade numbers about three thousand men. We expected to meet the members but they were all in meeting trying to decide what the attraction in Phi Delta Theta is. For all we know they're still arguing.

SOME PALACE

Whoa Napoleon! Here's the next stop. It's still dark but we can hear the throb of a Saxon motor. That must be the Sig house. Mysterious murmurs float up from downstairs. We locate Grove, Paul, and Unkrich in a huddle concerning the "ways and means" of the business managerships. This financial age. Oh boy!

AWFUL GOOD DATES

And here we are, friends of radioland, at the Alpha Gam house. This hotel is run on the modern European plan, hot and cold running water and all modern inconveniences. They sleep in shifts down there. There's only about four girls for one bed.

When they pledged last year they lined all the university women up in front of the Alpha Gam house and each active fired a double barrelled shot gun full of pledge pins into the crowd. Easily worked, eh!

THIRSTY, FORCEFUL, AMAZONS

Now let's give the little Theta Phi Alphas a big hand--a helping hand surely for the Lord only knows what a reputation to live up to. You remember the old Chi O house with it's famous rear veranda. Heid claims the reputation can be lived down, but that we doubt. One never knows.

PWETTY DAM THMOOTH

Ho for the Pi Delta Theta house. The house is down the alley in the dark so you won't draw your conclusions too quickly. When you can't see you draw pretty good conclusions. Oh well!
